2 Course Description

This course introduces students to the study of terrorism as a political act. We discuss the difference between state and oppositional terror, but the bulk of the course focuses on terror by non-state actors. We will compare different theories that attempt to explain why, how and when the opposition uses terror tactics to pursue their goals. Different research strategies of studying terrorism will be considered throughout with emphasis placed on developing a project related to increasing scholarly understanding of terrorism. This course focuses less on substantive examples of terrorism than on theories that can help explain terrorism. We conclude by examining the ways that states counter terror, and the choices and the tradeoffs states face when confronting terrorism.

3 Course Objectives

I have three main objectives for this course. First, my goal is to introduce you to important theories and concepts related to the study of terrorism. Second, since many students have limited exposure to important cases of terrorism, we investigate several prominent historical and contemporary cases of oppositional and state terrorism. Third, students will develop the basic skills necessary to produce original research on terrorism.

4 Course Format

The course is structured to consider various theoretical approaches to the study of terrorism. As such, we consult a variety of sources from disciplines such as political science, sociology, psychology, criminology, anthropology, economics, as well as others.

I believe strongly that learning occurs in many ways and strive to engage you beyond simply lecturing. Instead, we will engage in a variety of activities including lectures, personal writing exercises, partner and group work, class discussions, video clips, demonstrations, problem-solving activities, simulations, debates, and other critical thinking exercises. I also firmly believe in democracy and will solicit your opinions regarding the course generally, and the success or failure of certain exercises specifically. This course will require a great deal of reading and participation on your part. If you are not prepared each day and do not engage in the discussions, debates, and other activities, you will not be successful.

5 Requirements

Required Books

Recommended Books

All of the books are available at the bookstore and online. The 9/11 Commission report is available for free as a PDF on the Internet. You can find all of the books on Amazon.com or Addall.com at a reduced price.

Many of the articles for the class will be on reserve at the library. You can also find most of the journal articles on JSTOR (www.jstor.org). I will also place readings on blackboard that are not available on JSTOR, and these are noted in the syllabus (*). I expect you to read a newspaper everyday. You can choose any paper you would like, but I would recommend the New York Times (www.nytimes.com) or Christian Science Monitor (www.csmonitor.com) as they generally have the best coverage of international events.

Assessment

1. Attendance and Participation (25%)—attendance and participation are required. I may call on you randomly so you need to be prepared each day. Each day you will receive a point for showing up and one for participating.
2. Tests (50%)—The tests are a mixture of multiple choice and essay. There is one midterm exam and a final. The final is cumulative.

3. Research Paper (25%)—The first goal of this paper is to produce an original argument explaining the use of terror by a particular group and how to combat it given the theoretical justification for the group’s goals. The second goal is to improve your written communication skills and thus to produce a paper of the highest quality. In the past, students have used this paper as a writing sample for graduate or professional schools. We will participate in a series of writing workshops that will guide you through the writing process. Each workshop requires that you bring a portion of your paper as we build towards producing a final product.

A particular scenario that can help guide your writing is as follows: You are an analyst for a consulting firm that gives risk assessment for corporations considering operating in countries with active terror groups. Your task in this paper is to provide an evaluation of whether you think a particular firm should operate in a location of your choice (DUE on the last day of class). You can choose any country which has faced a terror group since 1945. The paper should include a discussion of:

- How did the group develop (a brief history of the organization)?
- Why they are considered a terrorist group
- What are their political goals?
- How their political goals may affect the corporation’s activities
- Which theory or approach best explains the reasons members of the group participate?
- How the group could either succeed or fail
- Whether the government is currently able to limit the efficacy of the organization
- What the government could do to make the climate safer for business operations

The paper must be between 8 and 10 pages (not including a title or works cited page). The format must be Times New Roman font, 12 pt, 1 inch margins. A rough draft is due on Thursday, March 5th (before spring break). I will return the drafts with comments by Tuesday, March 17th. The rough drafts are worth 20% of the final grade, however; if you do not turn in a rough draft, I will not grade your final draft.

6 Course Policies

Make-up Exams and Assignments

Unexcused absences from exams will result in a 0 for the assignment. I also DO NOT accept any late papers. The paper is due in hard copy on the date assigned by the time the class begins or the student earns a 0 for the assignment.

To qualify for a make-up test a student must notify me of the absence in advance (e-mail or call me) and provide documentation.
Assignments are due at the beginning of the class on the date indicated in the schedule. I will not accept e-mail copies or papers placed under my door. Please make hard copies of your papers as you work on them. Do not be afraid to print out multiple rough drafts. I do not accept excuses about dogs, computers, or traffic. Be responsible.

Academic Honor Code

Students are expected to uphold the Academic Honor Code published in Southern Illinois University-Carbondale's Student Conduct Code (Section II, Article A). Plagiarism is the most serious academic offense. Violations of this code can lead to failure of the course and a hearing with the university’s judicial board to suspend you from the university.

Classroom Courtesy

Classroom courtesy is an essential component of creating an effective learning environment. All students have the right to learn without unnecessary distractions. These distractions include: cell phones, talking during lectures (unless recognized by the instructor), reading newspapers, falling asleep, etc. If you need a cell phone for emergency purposes, leave it on vibrate. Entering and leaving are also significant sources of distraction. It is your responsibility to be on time and to stay for the entire period. In circumstances where you need to leave early, tell the instructor beforehand. Repeated disruptions of class will lead to a reduction in your final grade.

Most importantly, class discussions of the issues in political science and criminology, especially as they relate to terrorism, can lead to strong feelings and heated debate. Because this is a college classroom, all discussion must be respectful and scholarly.

Scholarly Comments

- are respectful of diverse opinions and open to follow up questions and/or disagreement
- are related to class and/or the course material
- focus on advancing the discussion about issues related to the course and/or course material rather than personal beliefs, and
- are delivered in normal tones and a non-aggressive manner.

Unacceptable Comments

- are personal in nature. This includes attacks on a persons appearance, demeanor, or political beliefs.
- include interrupting the instructor or other students. Raise your hand and wait to be recognized.
- often use the discussion to argue for political positions and/or beliefs. If political discussions arise, they must be discussed in a scholarly way (see above).
- may include using raised tones, yelling, engaging in arguments with other students and being threatening in any manner.
- include ignoring the instructors authority to maintain the integrity of the classroom environment.
Syllabus Change Policy
This syllabus is a guide for the course and is subject to change with advanced notice.
